

This country needs more competition, not less. My family subscribes to satellite radio because it offers a better product than what is available to us over the air. I would urge your office not to be influenced by "big" media interests and reject any attempt to lessen the satellite product offerings to the public.

H.p. mc cormick